Avangard Mattress

Double Extra

The Avangard features double extra foam comfort layers in the upper section, creating a refined dual-layer structure that blends elegance with superior comfort. This design enhances softness while adding a touch of luxury for a more relaxing sleep experience.

The mattress is built with an advanced bonell spring system, where the springs are interconnected to provide strong, durable support.

This creates a stable and well-balanced structure that offers reliable body support and consistent comfort throughout the night.

Thanks to these features, the Avangard Mattress is an ideal choice for those who prefer durable and practical mattresses that offer long-lasting performance and outstanding comfort.

Pocket Spring Mattress

Independent 7-Zone Pocket

Spring System

Pocket spring mattresses are constructed with individually wrapped coils, where each spring is enclosed in its own fabric pocket. This allows every spring to function independently, providing balanced comfort and ideal body support throughout the night.

Different steel wire gauges are used depending on the desired firmness level, making the mattress suitable for a wide range of preferences and comfort needs.

Thanks to the independent spring system, movement is not transferred from one side of the mattress to the other, ensuring a peaceful and undisturbed sleep without disturbing your partner.
